Empirical Bayes with Randomly Censored Data

梁大成

Department of Mathematics, Wayne State University, USA
liang@math.wayne.edu

Abstract

Methods of constructing empirical Bayes procedures based on right randomly censored data are studied. For exponential distributions model, empirical Bayes procedures are constructed. The performance of those empirical Bayes procedures is investigated.