

Statistical View on Clinical Trials

歐士田

財團法人醫藥品查驗中心 (CDE)

Abstract

Clinical trials play the important role during the drug development. A well controlled and designed trial is highly expected in order to achieve the desired therapeutic effect. To obtain the valid clinical data, it is evident that statistics is crucial in the clinical trials. In this talk, the following materials will be covered:

- An introduction of clinical trials.
- Statistical issues in the protocol.
- Case studies in the regulatory review.